

SoulShift - Educational Q&A Platform

General Questions

Practice Questions

Q1. In the Rankine cycle, what is the working fluid typically?

- A. Air
- B. Water
- C. Refrigerant
- D. Helium

Solution: The Rankine cycle typically uses water as the working fluid, which undergoes phase changes to absorb and release heat.

